building on a series of esrc funded seminars this edited collection of expert papers by academics and practitioners is concerned with access to civil and administrative justice in constitutional democracies where for the past decade governments have reassessed their priorities for funding legal services embracing new technologies that reconfigure the delivery and very concept of legal services cutting legal aid budgets and introducing putative cost cutting measures for the administration of courts tribunals and established systems for the delivery of legal advice and assistance without underplaying the future potential of technological innovation or the need for a fair and rational system for the prioritisation and funding of legal services the book questions whether the absolutist approach to the dictates of austerity and the promise of new technologies that have driven the coalition government s policy can be squared with obligations to protect the fundamental right of access to justice in the unwritten constitution of the united kingdom
